tor·pe·do (n): a self-propelled object, launched above or below the water surface, propelled underwater towards a target, and designed to detonate on contact Sounds intimidating, but that is essentially what you are, or should be, during the swim portion of your triathlon. If you have yet to swim like a torpedo, XTERRA WETSUITS is here to help by offering the new and improved 2011 Vortex 3 at a special price. Don't worry, we've kept the same features that made it the world's #1 selling wetsuit in 2010, but we've also made some updates. The 2011 model comes with an improved neck, smoother skin, new graphics and greater durability - and at the same price as last year.

While you focus on getting your PR in 2011, XTERRA WETSUITS will make sure you get the best wetsuit and excellent customer service.
